$500,000 In Bank.
GRAND GIFT CONCERT.
Postponed to December 7, 1872.
THE SECOND GRAND GIFT CONCERT IN AID OF the Public Library of Kentucky, announced for September 28th, has been postponed to December 7, 1872, because the accumulation of orders the few days before the drawing made it physically impossible to fill them without a few days' delay, and as a short postponement was inevitable, it was determined to defer it to a time that would make a full drawing sure by the sale of all the tickets.
The money necessary to pay in full all the offered gifts is now upon deposit in the Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, as will be seen by the following certificate of the Cashier:
FARMERS' AND DROVERS' BANK, }
LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 26, 1872. }
This is to certify that there is now on deposit in this bank over half a million of dollars to the credit of the Gift Concert fund. $500,000 of which is held by this bank as Treasurer of the Public Library of Kentucky to pay off all gifts to be awarded at the drawing.
R. S. VEACH, Cashier.
1,000 Prizes, amounting to $500,000 IN CASH,
will be awarded, the highest prize being $100,000 $50,000, $25,000, and down in regular gradation to $100, which is the lowest.
The drawing will positively and unequivocally take place December 7. Agents are peremptorily required to close sales and make returns November 25, in order to give ample time for the final arrangements. Orders for tickets or applications for Circulars should be addressed to
GOV. THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,

THE BEST, CHEAPEST,
AND
MOST DURABLE PAINTS
now in use are the Montour Slate Paints.
They cover one-third more surface, last longer and cost less than White Lead, the place of which they are very generally taking where economy, durability and neatness are desired.
Hear what our Practical Painters says:
It gives me great pleasure to recommend your Slate Paints—as supplying a need we have long felt, and overcoming a great difficulty, which has long been acknowledged by all practical Painters, namely the oxidation of White Lead, by the atmosphere, causing it to crumble or chalk off.
I am satisfied they will paint one-third more surface and in a better manner than any other pigment I have ever used. GEO. C. GOULD.

DR. CARPENTER.
136 MULBERRY STREET,
NEWARK, N. J.
Is now treating successfully,
Consumption. Bronchitis, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, with his
COMPOUND MEDICATED INHALATIONS, CONCENTRATED FOOD, AND COUGH SYRUP.
During the past ten years Dr. Carpenter has treated and cured thousands of cases of the above named diseases, and has now in his possession certificates of cures from every part of the country. The Inhalation is breathed directly into the lungs, soothing and healing over all inflamed surfaces, entering into the blood, it imparts vitality as it permeates to every part of the system. The sensation is not unpleasant and the first inhalation often gives very decided relief, particularly when there is much difficulty of breathing. Under the influence of my remedies, the cough soon grows easier, the night sweats cease, the hectic flush vanishes, and with improving digestion the patient rapidly gains strength, and health is again within his grasp.
The Concentrated Food rapidly builds up the most debilitated patient, presenting to the stomach food all ready to be assimilated and made into good, rich healthy blood.
The Cough Syrup is to be taken at night to alleviate the cough and enable the patient to obtain sleep. Full directions accompany each box of my remedies, which consist of
One Inhaler; One Bottle of Alterative Inhalant; One Bottle of Soothing Febrifuge Inhalant; One Bottle of Anti Hæmorrhagic Inhalant; One Bottle Concentrated Food; One Bottle fo Cough Syrup.
Price of Box containing remedies to last one month, $10; two months, $18; three months, $25. Sent to any address C. O. D. Pamphlets containing large list of patients cured sent free. Letters of inquiry must contain one dollar to insure answer. Address, Poetical.

A Romance of Newport.

I walked by moonlight on the shore
Where Newport's ramparts[*] rise;
The Dolly Varden dress she wore,
And she had lovely eyes,
But say; I havn't mentioned yet
That "she" was some one that I met.

Her hair was yellow as the gold,
Her cheek was like the rose,
And poetry can ne'er unfold
The graces of her nose—
The Muse admits it with a shrug,
She has no simile for "pug."

I met her, as I said before,
Where Newport's ramparts[†] rise;
We met by moonlight on the shore—
'Twas night as you'll surmise,
Because you in a general way
Don't meet with moonlight much by day.

She didn't speak. We never spoke.
We ne'er shall speak again,
Nay, smile not! this is not a joke—
I state the fact with pain;
We'd ne'er been introduced and so
There was an end of it you know.

'Tis ever so, and such is life,
As every one allows,
And I was walking with my wife,
And she was with her spouse;
Her spouse the butcher, who—the thief—
Asks fifty cents a pound for beef.

And I can but observe once more,
Where Newport's ramparts[‡] rise,
I strolled by moonlight on the shore,
And met my butcher's eyes;
And I thought then—I think so still—
I had not paid my butcher's bill.

[*] I never saw any ramparts at Newport, but it sounds beautiful.

THE DUEL.

A strange looking person sat in a renowned coffee-house or cafe, reading the papers, but at the same time smoking a small clay pipe and drinking his coffee with an air of satisfaction. He wore a complete suit of black, which was cut in the latest style; a fine white necktie or scarf, being the only thing white to be seen in his dress.

In stalked Major L., accompanied by several military friends. The major was far different in disposition and character from any of his comrades. He possessed an ungovernable passion to ridicule everything and to persecute everything with his sarcasm; therefore he was much feared by his companions.

The Major seemed to be in a rather lively humor, and it appeared as though he was literally seeking for some one on whom to practice his acquired habit of ridicule. The party in black, whom he took for a school teacher, on account of his peculiar dress, had hardly been espied by the Major, than he slid quietly behind his chair, as though it was accidental, and blew the light out. His comrades laughed. The stranger coolly relit the gas as though nothing had happened, and continued reading.

"Now," thought the Major, "I know my man; he will stand something." He therefore approached him and said, sarcastically, 'good evening my dear 'familiour,' "at the same time grasping his hand, and with it the pipe he held which was thereby broken into pieces.

"Waiter, another pipe," called out the man in black, seemingly very quiet and cool.

The comrades of the Major laughed still louder. The Major called him a splendid fellow.

As he could not rouse the ire of this party, as was generally the case with those whom he selected as his victim, and also being invited to take a hand in a game of whist, he went into one of the play-rooms, followed by his entire suite, and let the man in black sit quietly.

The party in black continued reading his paper, and drank his coffee, and seemed to have quite forgotten the recent insults of the Major and his party. But as soon as he had finished reading, he got up and went into the room in which the Major was playing, and stepping up before him, and catching him by the lappel of his coat, said:

"Sir, to-morrow morning we fight, and with pistols."

"So, so," interrupted the Major, "will the school-teacher bring his ratan with him?"

"You are mistaken, sir, I am a Captain in the British navy. To morrow morning we meet at the Poet's lane." The captain left without another word.

The entire company of yesterday met at the appointed place with the Major the following morning. The captain, in magnificent uniform, awaited them and bowed politely.

The captain not having any second, one of the Major's suite volunteered to act as such.

"Thank you," replied the captain, "I need no second. I have my jockey with me, and should I fall, he knows what is to be done. You are all men of honor, and will allow no mean advantage to be taken of me."

The pistols were now loaded, fifteen paces counted off, and the opponents took their places.

"You are the insulted party," said the Major's second to the captain, "and therefore have the first shot."

The captain raised his pistol and aimed. There was an unearthly stillness among the small circle, and the Major turned pale.

The captain lowered his pistol, and said, "as the Major will not have the second shot he shall shoot first."

"You seem to be certain of your aim," said the Major's second, "and it is therefore noble on your part to allow the Major the first shot, as well as your renunciation of the first shot. But, nevertheless, I, as well as all here assembled, cannot allow it. You are all alone, and without seconds. You have come under our regulation. Therefore, sir, shoot.'

"I do not wish to seem sure of my aim, but be sure of it. I never joke. With my pistols I hit to a certainty, of which you shall soon be convinced. John," and he called his jockey, "throw something up in the air."

The jockey pulled out his handkerchief.—"No," said the captain, "something smaller, a piece of money, at button or something of the kind."

The jockey pulled a plum out of his pocket. 'Good, John," cried the captain, "now throw it high in the air."

The Jockey threw the plum up; the captain aimed, there was a flash and a report, and the plum came spurting down, bursted in many pieces.

An involuntary bravo escaped the lips of the lookers on. The Major turned pale as death.

The captain did not speak another word about the plum shot, but quietly reloaded his pistol in presence of the second, and went back to take his place.

"Shoot, Major," cried the captain. The second wanted to interfere, but the captain put him pack, and shouted a little rough—"shoot, Major."

The Major shot, and missed. "Shoot again, Major; you aimed miserably. Should I fall it will be lucky, not alone for you, but for all of these gentlemen, because I intend to make you, one and all, look into the muzzle of my pistol."

The Major raised his pistol and aimed, but everything seemed swimming before his eyes. His nerves were unsteady.

The captain looked him straight in the face. At last he said, "Yesterday I was your teacher in joke; to-day I will have to be your teacher in earnest. You hold your weapon too high. You will never hit me."

The Major shot and missed, and hot perspiration could be seen on the now anxious countenances.

Then the captain raised his pistol and aimed, and—lowered it again. "Major," spoke the captain, "you are a miserable creature. I inquired about you yesterday, and every one speaks ill of you. In two minutes you will have ceased to live. Now I will be your teacher, and command you to pray to the great and retaliating God, and ask his forgiveness for your sins. Pray that all the people whom you have wronged may forgive you, and God will heed.

All took off their hats and the jockey his cap. With his eyes uplifted toward heaven the captain prayed fervently in behalf of the Major. The stern man's prayer had touched all. The Major's heart beat audibly. He was now on that bridge which separates life from death.

"Amen!" came from all lips. Oh, the plum had touched all hearts. All put their hats on again. The hour of death had come. The Major had not a single drop of blood in his countenance. He trembled so violently that he was hardly able to stand erect.

In order to end his misery the captain aimed quickly and lowered his pistol, handed it to the jockey and said, "The man is not worth a charge of powder," and left.

The next evening he appeared again dressed in black, in the cafe, but no one disturbed him.

The Major, of course, saw himself compelled to resign his position in the army.

Fall Weather and Warm Blood.

We should never allow ourselves to forget that nature intended us for warm-blooded animals. In this climate of surprising changes, we are very apt to forget it, especially in the fall and spring. At such seasons, when we freeze and simmer on alternate days, there is engendered in us a certain recklessness, which takes no heed of cold or heat, dampness or dryness, and receives all temperatures with the same front, generally a defenceless one. It is certainly very troublesome to change front as often as the weather, and there is a prejudice in American minds against such change, which has a great deal to do with the rapidly increasing population of our graveyards. People like to have some stability of purpose, and if they can have it in nothing else they will try to have it in their dress. They will not make a change until they make a permanent one for the season. No matter how hot it is in the spring, they will wear spring clothes until summer, and no matter how cool it may be in August, summer clothes must be worn until fall shall actually set in. Thus ofttimes suddenly and with sad results we find ourselves approaching the condition of the fishes and lizards,—for the chill, that alert forerunner of disease, is ever ready, in our climate, to take advantage of circumstances.

We suppose that there are no people in the world so indifferent to the demands of the weather—especially cool weather—as Americans, and one reason of this is that very many of us are ashamed to keep warm. To wrap up and button up, and to put down windows whenever there is a chilling change in the air, argues, to most minds, a namby-pamby eagerness to be well that is repugnant to the hardy American soul. So, rather than be laughed at, we shiver. We prefer tragedy, the grave to the ridiculous.—Home and Society, in Scribner's for November.

Too Poor.

Moore, of the Rural New Yorker, was sitting in his office one afternoon, some years ago, when a farmer friend came in and said;—

"Mr. Moore, I like your paper, but times are so hard that I cannot pay for it."

"Is that so, friend Jones? I'm very sorry to hear that you are so poor; if you are so hard run I will give you my paper."

"Oh, no! I can't take it as a gift."

"Well, then, let's see how we can fix it. You raise chickens I believe."

"Yes, a few, but they don't bring anything, hardly."

"Don't they? Neither does my paper cost anything, hardly. Now I have a proposition to make to you. I will continue your paper, and when you go home you may select from your lot one chicken and call her mine. Take good care of her and bring me the proceeds, whether in eggs or chickens, and we will call it square."

"All right, Brother Moore," and the fellow clucked at what he thought a capital bargain. He kept the contract strictly, and at the end of the year found that he had paid four prices for his paper. He often tells the joke himself, and says he never had the face to say he was too poor to take a paper from that day.—Model Farmer.

A Good Story.

The following is not entirely new, but in the skillful hands of Mr. Watterson, of the Louisville Courier, it receives some embellishment that makes it worthy of repetition:

When the late General John A. Quitman was running against Henry S. Foote for Governor of Mississippi, in 1851, he, not unreasonably or unnaturally, mounted his war-horse, brandished his sword in the air, and fought his campaigns over again. He made a battle field of every stump in the State, from Holly Springs to the Louisiana line. "Fellow citizens," said he, "I have been, all my life, a soldier in the service of liberty and my country.—When the bugle call of freedom resounded in Texas I raised a command and rushed to the front, sharing the glories of San Jacinto and the Lone Star. When the tocsin of war was heard upon the Rio Grande I again obeyed the summons, and proceeded at once to the scene of action. At Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma I was in the thick of the fight; at Monterey and Buena Vista, before the walls of Chepultepec, all along the line of Taylor and Scott, I breasted the storm of shot and shell, until at last, with my own hands, I placed the glorious Star-spangled Banner upon the halls of the Montezumas." General Quitman was an earnest speaker, a brave and true soldier, and a man of handsome personal appearance and bearing. All that he said of himself was true, and, spoken among his native people, many of whom had shared his glories and his toils, it was not out of place or season. It made a visible stir among the masses. Wherever he went he produced an effect.—But, on a certain occasion, when the war feeling was apparently stronger, and more general than usual, he observed an old man in the crowd quite overcome by feeling, sobbing violently, and crying out every now and then, "Amen," and "Oh, my Quitman."—When the General had finished, he sought out this old man, and accosted him. "My friend" said he, "you seemed to be moved by what I said." The old man declared that he had never been so moved in his life, and then drying his eyes, he said:

"And you went and fit the Mexicans for Texan liberty, General, did you?"

"Yes," said Quitman, "I did."

"And you shared in the glories of San Jacinto and the Lone Star, did you?"

"Yes; I did that, too."

"And when the tocsin of war sounded on the Rio Grande you flew to the call of your country, and passed through all the battles of Taylor's and Scott's line until the Stars and Stripes were on the halls of the Montezumas, did you?

"Yes, my old friend, I have told you nothing but the truth."

"My noble Quitman! My brave Quitman! You have done enough for your country. It is time that your country gave you rest. I shall vote for Foote!"

A Remarkable Boy.

If there was anything Father Bogles really delighted in, it was to secure the attention of someone while he spun a yarn about the cuteness of his boy Tom. 'Ah!' said Bogles one day as he fairly fixed his auditor, 'Tom is the most remarkable boy you ever set eyes on; he's like his old dad—you can no more circumvent him than you can a woodchuck. You recollect that choice apple tree down under the hill, beside the stump fence? Well, I was mighty savin' of them apples, I can tell you. I forbid Tom touchin'em, as they brought a high price in market; but he would get em in spite of me. It was his way you know, and all possessed couldn't stop him. One day I caught the young scrapegrace up in the tree, stuffin' his sack with the fruit, and I determined this time to punish him for it.

'Thomas my son,' says I, your father's callin' ye—come down.'

'I thought I'd be sort of persuasive, so it would fetch him; but he smelt a mice, and didn't budge an inch."

'I can't dad, these pesky apples are in the way.'

'Tom,' I continued, sternly, for my dander begun to riz, 'come down this minnit, or I'll cut down the tree, and let her fall.'

You see my poor limbs' wouldn't permit my shinnin' after the boy, so I had to take other means.

'Oh, no you won't dad,' says Tom; 'only think how you'd mourn if you couldn't sell the apples to stuff the old toad skin."

'That was too much, to have my own boy accuse me of such parsimony. So what does I do but get the axe, and cut away at the bottom of the tree.'

'Tom—Thomas,' I cried, as the tree was about half cut off, 'will you come down now, and save your self?'

'Never mind, dad,' says he; I aint spilin.'

'It was no use; I couldn't bring him that way; and so I chopped away at the tree, till at last it began to sway, and fell to the ground.'

'What! and crushed your own boy?" ejaculated his horrified listener.

'Not by a long chalk," replied old Bogles, winking knowingly. 'You couldn't come it over Tom in any such way. What had he done but crawled out on a limb; and, while I was choppin' at the bottom of the tree, his been cutting off the limb with his jack knife, and when the tree fell, he was still up there on the limb!'

THE New York "Mail" tells the following nice little dog story: "An apothecary, in Somerville, Mass., has a Scotch terrier which had the singular fortune good or bad, to be brought up in a family of kittens, and he retains such an affection for his early playmates that he seizes every kitten he can find and tenderly carries it home. As they are generally claimed or sent back, he is engaged in a continued effort to accumulate a family of kittens, to make his home happy."

A Sphere for Women.

Women are naturally good economists. They are apt to understand how to make limited means go as far as possible. If a man and wife are united in the desire to get rich, the man is likely to think more about earning the money; the wife will attach more importance to saving it.

Almost every American earns money enough to be well off, and in time to be rich. If he does not become so, it is, in many cases, because he has no wife, or because he does not take her into his counsels. He is full of enterprise, and makes an income. If he does not prosper, it is often because he does not hold on to it. His wife, very likely, has the faculty of conversation which he lacks; and if he has the shrewdness to enlist her in his plans, he will find his fortune made.

In continental Europe, book keeping is a part of the education of a well-taught farmer's daughter, and his wife presides over the finances of the establishment. In England, woman's aptitude in the promotion of maternal prosperity is too little thought of; and a woman who, as a girl, was untaught in respect to judicious economy, is an expensive wife. Her husband, perhaps, keeping her in ignorance of his finances, purposely. If he is prosperous, she becomes accustomed to plenty of money, and ill-prepared for reverses. If he is not prosperous, she has to bear the pinchings of poverty without knowing how to help him to avoid the pressure.

Marriage could be easier and happier if young women were taught the principles of account-keeping, and systematic habits in respect of finances; and if the young husband would take his wife into his confidence, and make the income and expenditures and the accumulation of the first few hundred dollars, a matter of common interest.

A woman of average intelligence and good sense can make the fortune of a man whose love she enjoys, and who will give her for the purpose a full share in the responsible control of the income of the household. She will not generally be able to enter into his business plans; but if she knows his income (whether wages, salary, or current profits) and his personal expenses, and can thus foresee what the household has to rely on, she will characteristically be ready to "cut the coat according to the cloth," and will usually be more scrupulous than he to lay aside something every season as the beginning of their fortune.

A STATE RULED BY WOMAN.—Among the Holland possessions there is a remarkable little State which, in its constitution and the original customs of its inhabitants, surpasses the boldest dreams of American emancipation ladies. Upon the island of Java, between the cities of Batavia and Samarang, lies the little kingdom of Bantam. Although tributary to Holland, it is an independent State, politically without imporance, yet happy, rich, and since time immemorial governed and defended by woman. The sovereign is indeed a man, but all the rest of the government belongs to the fair sex. The King is entirely dependent upon his state council, composed of three women. The highest authorities, all State officers, court functionaries, military commanders, and soldiers are, without exception, of the female sex. The men are agriculturists and merchants. The body-guard of the King is formed of the female elite. These amazons ride in the masculine style, wearing sharp steel points instead of spurs. They carry a pointed lance, which they swing very gracefully, and also a musket, which is discharged at full gallop. The throne is inheritable by the eldest son, and in case the King dies without issue a hundred elected amazons assemble, in order to choose a successor from among their own sons. The chosen one is then proclaimed lawful king. The capital city of this little State lies in one of the most picturesque parts of the island, in a fruitful plain, and is defended by two well-kept fortresses.—From "Are Americans Less Healthy than Europeans?" in November Galaxy.

A TOAD UNDRESSING.—Audubon relates that he once saw a toad undressing himself. He commenced by pressing his elbows hard against his sides, and rubbing downwards. After a few smart rubs his hide began to burst open along his back. He kept rubbing until he worked all his skin into folds on his sides and hips; and then grasping one hind leg with his hands, he hauled off one leg of his pants the same as anybody would; then stripped off the other hind leg in the same way. He then took his cast off skin forward between his fore legs into his mouth and swallowed it; then, by raising and lowering his head he stripped off his skin underneath, until it came to his fore-legs, then, grasping one of those with the opposite hand, by a single motion of the head, and while swallowing, he drew it from the neck and swallowed the whole.

A MYSTERY.—Two darkies had bought a piece of pork and Sam, having no place to put his in, trusted the whole to Julius' keeping. Next morning they met, when Julius said:

"A most strange thing happened at my house last night, Sam. All mystery to me."

"An' Julius, what was dat?"

"Well, Sam, this mornin' I went down into the cellar for to get a piece of hog for breakfast, and I put my hand down into the brine, and felt all around, but no pork dere—all gone—couldn't tell what be went with it; so I turned up de bar'l, and Sam, true as preachin', de rats eat a hole clear froo de bottom ob de bar'l, and dragged de pork all out."

"Why didn't de brine run out of de hole?" said Sam.

"Ah, Sam, dat's de mystery."

The Columbian.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Friday, Nov. 1, 1872.

"Up Guards, and atThem."

This was Wellington's famous order at the turning point of the Battle of Waterloo. Victory was snatched from the jaws of defeat, and the great Napoleon lost his battle and his empire. We have the strength to defeat our opponents next Tuesday, if we can poll our vote. At the late election it is estimated that 50,000 Democrats staid from the polls,—enough to have given our ticket a handsome majority had they but voted, despite the fraud, treachery, repeating, and importations of thousands of negro votes. This game cannot be repeated next Tuesday. The New York repeaters and Virginia negroes will be needed at home, and Radical money no longer flows like water.

Democrats of old Columbia it is your duty to vote! The Democratic Convention at Reading placed in nomination an electoral ticket, every man upon which is a Democrat. By staying at home you give half a vote to Grant and his party, and to that extent endorse the rottenness, thieving and corruption that have disgraced our land. You add additional fetters to the people of the South and place the whites at the mercy of thieving carpet baggers and ignorant negroes. There can be no neutrality in this contest. Those who are not with us necessarily aid Grant, Cameron, Hartranft and their rotten crew, and approve of Grant's debauchery, his nepotism, his gift taking, and his oppression of the South.

Do not act the coward by slinking to the rear when your brethren in the same cause are making a gallant fight. Come to the front, and teach our would-be masters that there is yet a power in the land strong enough to protect their rights and repress wrong. Your weapon to-day is the ballot. Use it next Tuesday, for God alone knows how long even that defence will be left you.

To work, then,—get out every vote, stand at the polls all day—be on your guard against bribery and corruption. By a strong pull we yet can win.

Poll the Vote.

The faint-hearted and careless may excuse themselves from the duty of voting at the Presidential election, on the ground that there is no probability of carrying Pennsylvania for Greeley and Brown, but the truehearted and dauntless democrats who have rallied to the front after successive defeats, for a dozen years, will not falter now. Parties are organized and maintained in order that masses of people may express their political views at the ballot box. The object of party organization is not merely to elect individuals to office, but to obtain an expression of public opinion through the agency of the ballot, on the issues of the political canvass. Therefore the duty of members of a political party to attend the election and record their votes, does not cease when in their judgment it appears that the candidates of their choice may not be successful in this or that locality. They still owe it to their organization to poll their full strength in order that as strong an expression of public sentiment as possible may be had in favor of its principles or doctrines. The Democrats and Liberals of Pennsylvania have consequently to discharge the important duty of sustaining their principles by their votes, a duty which they owe not only to their party, but to themselves and to their country. Every democratic voter who absents himself from the election, tacitly assents to the re-election of Grant and actually consents to an endorsement of all the monstrosities and villanies of his administration. Every voluntary absentee casts half a vote against amnesty, against the right of the people to local and self government, against reform in the civil service, and against reconciliation and peace. Every such absentee casts half a vote for arbitrary arrests, for the suspension of the habeas corpus, for a continuation of carpet bag rule in the southern states, for Tom Murphyism in the custom house, and nepotism and gift-taking in the White House. What Democrat or Liberal worthy of the name is able to satisfy his conscience for such dereliction of duty? We are not of those, however, who regard Pennsylvania so hopelessly lost as to warrant us in making no effort to carry the State. We do not yield the battle. There are THREE HUNDRED AND SIXTY THOUSAND Democrats and Liberals in the State, and if these could be brought to the polls on the fifth of November, the electoral vote of Pennsylvania would be assured to Greeley and Brown. Are we so demoralized by the fraudulent and corrupt October triumph of the Cameron ring that we may not rally our forces for the next onset? For shame! Let it not be said that the gallant legions of the Pennnsylvania Democracy are so easily dismayed! Our brethren elsewhere are waging a noble battle for the Right. In New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin the campaign is vigorously urged with the most encouraging signs of Liberal victories in all these States. Throughout the whole South, with the exception of South Carolina, the work goes bravely on, and one hundred and twenty-five electoral votes will be cast in that portion of the Union for Greeley and Brown. Then let the line be re-formed in Pennsylvania. Let us hasten to retrieve the lost ground. Let us resolve to deserve success, and thus command it.

AT the recent election in this State, Hon. Wm. Elwell of Bloomsburg, Columbia county, was re-elected president judge of the twenty-sixth judicial district, having no opposition, and receiving every vote cast for the position. This is the best kind of evidence that Judge Elwell is highly acceptable to the people of his district, and is a compliment which in these days few judges ever obtain. We congratulate him upon the well deserved honor which has been accorded to him.—Phila. Legal Gazette.

The Horse Disease.

The remarkable epidemic which first made its appearance in Toronto, Canada, has spread over the country with astonishing rapidity, and in the large cities has caused great trouble and inconvenience from the almost total stoppage of transportation. Boston, Rochester, Albany, New York and Washington have all suffered. The horse cars in New York will probably all be withdrawn from want of animals to draw them. Some idea of the scourge may be formed from the fact that in and near the city of New York it is estimated that there are between thirty and forty thousand horses down with the disease. It is impossible to tell what the amount of loss will be as no estimate can be made of the number of cases likely to terminate fatally. In New York large amounts of freight are now lying on piers of different steamship lines for want of teams to remove it, and it is stated that if the disease does not abate soon, ocean steamers will be seriously delayed. Several steamers which have arrived within the last two or three days, have not yet discharged their cargoes. Sound steamers, also, have been delayed for want of freight room on the piers.

The disease seems to be of a catarrhal nature attended in some instances with violent inflammation of the throat, and in others with an affection similar to that of diptheria in human beings. We take from the New York Sun the following:

TREATMENT OF THE HORSE DISEASE.

Sprinkle your stable frequently and plentifully with carbolic acid and with gum camphor dissolved in alcohol. Use chloride of lime very freely. Put double the usual quantity of bedding under your horses. There is no danger of rubbing their limbs and loins too much. Every drop of water that they drink should be pure and fresh. They cannot have too much air, provided they are not exposed to a draught.

Let your horses rest if you can.

In regard to the use of turpentine so confidently recommended by General Roberts in his letter to Mr. Bonner, we have to say that perhaps all the benefits of turpentine, with much greater safety to the horse, might be obtained by sprinkling it so that the horse would inhale it instead of rubbing it on him.

Turpentine is a very powerful substance. It will limber the joints, and make them like withes, and it should be used cautiously.

We rather think Mr. Bonner was nearer right to treat his horses without such violent applications. Still it may do them no harm, and may possibly do them good to sprinkle turpentine so that they will breathe it in.

As to rubbing it on, we should want to think twice before doing it, although it may be good.

It will be well for owners of horses to exercise great watchfulness and attend promptly to any case which may make its appearance.

ALTHOUGH there have been as yet no cases of the horse epidemic in this county the frightful rapidity with which the disease spreads should give us warning. As a matter if interest we give the most noticeable symptoms of the disease. As will be seen proper care and attention are all that is needed.

The first noticeable symptoms will be a flow of tears from the eyes, a watery discharge from the nose and general languor. Next, a cough, which, becoming more frequent will soon occur in paroxysms. In the commencement the membranes of the nose will be found pale or of a leaden color, and those of the eyes presenting a yellowish or reddened appearance. Many cases are ushered on with a chill. All this is soon succeeded by a general feverish condition, manifested by heat of mouth, membranes of the eyes and nose reddened, pulse frequent, though soft and easily compressed, respiration quickened and sometimes laborious. At this stage the bowels may be sluggish, urinary organs inactive and the discharge from the nose often assuming a yellowish or greenish appearance. The disease usually runs its course within ten days, and with proper treatment few if any cases ought to prove fatal. Those that do so are usually complicated with other diseases, as bronchitis or pneumonia.

The latest reports from the various cities show an alarming increase in the number of horses afflicted. In Norwich, Conn., scarcely a horse is to be seen, the teams being drawn by men and oxen. In South Boston the horse-cars are also drawn by men, while Rochester has fallen back upon running the fire-engines by hand. The disease is spreading everywhere. Philadelphia, Buffalo, Paterson, N. J., Binghamton, Providence, R. I., Oswego, Albany, Watertown, Bangor, Me., and many other places, are adding their notes to the prevailing cry of distress.

A True View of the Pennsylvania Election.

The Golden Age, edited by Theodore Tilton, gives the following true picture of the recent election: "Pennsylvania has given to the country the best of all reasons why the Republican party should be defeated. The Hartranft victory in that State—a victory by a dishonored over an honorable man—a victory by a Ring over the People—a victory whose swollen majority was heaped up by repeaters and magnified by fraud—a victory of the penitentiary and perjury—such a victory is worse than a defeat. The Republican party of Pennsylvania committed suicide on the 8th of October. Whom the gods would destroy they first made mad. It needs no prophetic foresight to see that sooner or later there is sure to be a popular revulsion against the Hartranft type of public service. It is generally confessed that if this man's ticket had been left to its own merits to sustain it, and had not craftily borrowed an extraneous help from Grant and the necessities of the next Presidency, it would have gone down into the dust under the weight of 75,000 adverse majority. The Republicans of Pennsylvania therefore, stand convicted of voting for a Governor whom in their hearts they despise, for the sake of re-electing a Federal Administration which thus becomes a partner in the frauds of the most gigantic of State Rings. The Pennsylvania Republicans give up to party what was meant for mankind. They out-Tweed Tweed."

POSTMASTER GENERAL CRESWELL ruled about a year ago that newspapers could only be sent through the mails to regular subscribers, but numbers of the New York Times are now sent to parties all over the country who have never asked for the same and don't want it. Grantism, it seems, can go free.

Horace Greeley said "General Grant never has been defeated and never will be." He said nothing about President Grant, who is quite a different commodity, and has been defeated in almost everything he has undertaken since he became President.

Stand to Your Guns.

We hope the overwhelming defeat in this State last Tuesday will not cause any Democrat or Liberal to give up the contest. Our cause is just as sacred to-day as it was before there was a ballot cast, in the present campaign. The people have as great an interest in national and State Reform, as they had before fraud, money and the power of the Administration, overthrew the honest voice of the people of Pennsylvania. In the end this great cause is sure to succeed, because it challenges the respect of the honest men of all parties. It may possibly meet a crushing defeat everywhere, for a time, but ultimately it will triumph, and right prevail. If we were struggling simply for office, the case would be different; but, as our fight is one of principle, we must wage the battle until victory crowns our efforts. To surrender now, with the battle partially fought, would be cowardly in the extreme, and unworthy of freemen. Suppose the Union army had given up the contest after the first bloody defeat at Bull Run, what would the world have thought of our courage, and our cause? This country would be the despised of all nations, and to-day we would be mourning over a divided Union, and a disgraced Government. We do not look upon the contest as hopeless, with Pennsylvania gone, for with Indiana in our favor, our chances are about, or nearly equal. Even if we cannot elect Mr. Greeley, it is necessary that we make as strong a fight as possible for him, and the cause he represents. Nothing will have such a wholesome check on the corrupt Administration at Washington, as the strength of numbers chrystalized in an active, vigilant and aggressive party. Above all this there is another consideration. There is a point of honor in this contest. Democrats cannot now desert their allies, the Liberal Republicans. They stood by us the second Tuesday in October, and we are in honor bound to stand by them in November. Thousands voted our State and county ticket. If we overestimated their numbers, it was our fault not theirs, and does not relieve us of our duty to them. We, therefore, say to the Democrats of Bucks county, every obligation of honor and political fealty appeals to them to go to the polls in November and vote for Horace Greeley. He is our candidate, as well as the representative of everything that is worth contending for in politics, and Democrats cannot afford to be recreant to him and the cause of right. Then stand to your guns Democrats.—Doylestown Democrat.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Buffalo Courier writes as follows to that paper. A perusal will give some idea of the rescality and outrageous fraud which made up Hartranft's so-called majority in Philadelphia. A more disgraceful record we have never seen.

On my way home last night I fell in with a company of Reddy's boys, and found their company rather entertaining. They were just home from Philadelphia, having succeeded in making a little pile by visiting many polls and leaving the name of Mr. Hartranft with the people behind the rail. One party of twenty-five men, living in the eighth ward of this city, drove around the city of Philadelphia in an omnibus, drawn by four horses, and voted at forty-five different polls, and wound up the day's sport by putting in a second ballot at the poll where they began operations. They were supplied with lists of names by The. Allen to answer to at each polling list, and were only one of four gangs from the Eighth ward of this city. If the others did as well as this, they alone added 4,500 votes to Hartranft's majority. One man, who didn't believe in crowds but "quiet business," admitted to voting 61 times—or rather, as he corrected himself, to putting in 61 ballots. He supplied himself with the names of four or five men in each election district of a wealthy ward, and went early. He voted for one, stepped outside the door and allowed two or three others to vote then came back and voted again. "Didn't the Charlies trouble you?" I asked. "You're a little green lambkin. They always told me when it was time to leave for another poll, and I generally left." But the stories they told of their adventures would not be credited. A reporter who went with one of the gangs voted at thirty-two polls. He is writing a pamphlet, which will be published next week, giving the names and residences of about two hundred and fifty repeaters from this city, with a full exposure of the different methods employed.

In sundry newspapers we find an article which has the appearance of having come from the editorial manufactory in Washington. This article bears the portentous and thrilling title, "Grant side by side with the Father of the Country," and it is an attempt to defend the Doctor from what it calls "the weak aspersions of the imbecile writers and pigmy malignars of the present day." The point is that, whereas Gen. Washington was abused and was yet a good President, Dr. Grant must be a good President because so many people say that he isn't. It is not every day that you meet with such delightful logic—such convincing sequiturs.

WELLS' CARBOLIC TABLETS

Worthless imitations are on the market, but the only scientific preparation of Carbolic Acid for Lung diseases is when chemically combined with other well-known remedies, as in these TABLETS, and all parties are cautioned against using any other.

In all cases of irritation of the mucous membrane these TABLETS should be freely used, their cleansing and healing proprieties are astonishing.

Be warned, never neglect a cold, it is easily cured in its incipient state, when it becomes chronic the cure is exceedingly difficult, use Wells' Carbolic Tablets as a specific.

DUTY OFF TEAS!

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA COMPANY

have business connections with all the principal ports of China and Japan, and import their Teas direct from place of growth, thus saving the consumer from 5 to 8 profits. It is now about 12 years since the Company was organized—and it has been a splendid success from the very first. This was due to the fact that we imported and sold only and distributed them to our customers in all parts of the United States for one small profit only, between the Tea-grower and Tea-consumer. We originated the system of supplying consumers in distant parts of the country with Teas, at New York Cargo Prices, on the Club plan. And since we adopted this plan we have saved the people of this country millions of dollars annually, in the cost of their articles of everyday necessity.

THE BEST AND PUREST GOODS,

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a most powerful Tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba retains all the medicinal virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your Liver & Spleen? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotches, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, &c., &.

Take Jurubeba to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you a Dyspeptic Stomach? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the Blood, Dropsical Tendency, General Weakness or Lassitude.

Take it to assist Digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

Have you weakness of the intestines? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhoea or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammation.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or Urinary Organs? You must procure instant relief or you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.

It is further directed that the election polls of the several districts shall be opened between the hours of six and seven o'clock in the forenoon, and shall continue open without interruption and adjournment until seven o'clock in the evening when the polls shall be closed.

Pursuant to the provisions contained in the 78th section of the act first aforesaid, the judges of the aforesaid districts shall respectively take charge of the certificates of return of the election of their respective districts, and produce them at a meeting of one judge from each district at the Court House, in Bloomsburg, on the third day after the day of the election, being on Friday, the 8th day of November, 1872, at 10 o'clock, a. m., then and there to do and perform the duties required by law of said judges.

Also, that where a judge, by sickness or unavoidable accident, is unable to attend such meeting of judges, then the certificate or return shall be taken charge of by one of the Inspectors or clerks of the election of the district, who shall do and perform the duties required of said judge unable to attend.

The following Act of Assembly, regulating the mode of voting in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, was passed March 18th, 1868, and reads thus:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same that the qualified voters of the several districts in the several counties of this commonwealth, at all general, township, borough and special elections, are hereby hereafter authorized and required to vote by tickets printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, severally classified as follows: One ticket shall embrace the names of all Judges of Courts voted for, and labelled, outside, "Judiciary;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all the State officers voted for, and to be labelled "State;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all county officers voted for, including the office of Senator, Member and Members of Assembly, if voted for and members of Congress, if voted for, and be labelled "County;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all township officers voted for and be labelled, "Township;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all borough offices voted for, and be labelled "Borough;"

SECTION 2. That it shall be the duty of the Sheriff in the several counties of this Commonwealth to insert in their election proclamations, hereafter issued the first section of this act.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN.

That every person excepting Justices of the Peace who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the United States, or of this State, and city or corporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise, a subordinate officer or agent who is or shall be employed under the Legislature, executive or Judiciary Department of this State, or of any city or of any incorporated district, and also, that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commissioners of any incorporated district, is by law incapable of holding or exercising at the same time the office or appointment of Judge, Inspector or Clerk of any election of this Commonwealth, and that no Inspector, Judge or other officer of such election shall be eligible to be then voted for.

The Inspectors and Judge of the elections shall meet at their respective places appointed for holding the election in the district to which they respectively belong, before seven o'clock in the morning, and each of said inspectors shall appoint one clerk, who shall be a qualified voter of such district.

In case the person who shall receive the second highest number of votes for inspector shall not attend on the day of any election, then the person who shall have received the second highest number of votes for judge at the next preceding election shall act as inspector in his place. And in case the person who shall have received the highest number of votes for inspector shall not attend, the person elected judge shall appoint an inspector in his place—and in case the person elected judge shall not attend, then the inspector who received the highest number of votes shall appoint a judge in his place—or if any vacancy shall continue in the board for the space of one hour after the time fixed by law for the opening of the election, the qualified voters of the township, ward, or district for which such officers shall have been elected, present at such election shall elect one of their number to fill such vacancy.

"It shall be the duty of the several assessors respectively to attend at the place of holding every general, special or township election, during the whole time such election is kept open, for the purpose of giving information to the inspectors and judges, when called on in relation to the right of any person assessed by them to vote at such election, and on such other matters in relation to the assessment as the said inspectors or either of them shall from time to time require.

'No person shall be permitted to vote at any election as aforesaid other than a white freeman of the age of twenty-one years or more, who shall have resided in the State at least one year, and in the election district where he offers to vote ten days immediately preceding such election, and within two years paid a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least ten days before the election. But a citizen of the United States who has previously been a qualified voter of this State and returned and who shall have in the election district and paid taxes, as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote after residing in this State six months. Provided, that white freemen, citizens of the United States between the age of twenty-one and twenty-two who have resided in the election district ten days as aforesaid shall be entitled to vote although they shall not have paid tax.

No person shall be permitted to vote whose name is not contained in the list of taxable inhabitants furnished by the Commissioners, unless First, he produces a receipt for the payment within two years of a State or county tax assessed agreeably to the Constitution and give satisfactory evidence either on his oath or affirmation or the oath or affirmation of other, than he has paid such a tax, or on failure to produce a receipt shall make oath to the payment thereof. Second if he claim the right to vote by being an elector between the age of twenty-one and twenty-two years, he shall depose on oath or affirmation that he has resided in this State at least one year next before his application, and make such proof of residence in the district as is required by this act, and that he does verily believe from the account given him, that he is of age aforesaid, and such other evidence as is required by this act; whereupon the name of the person thus admitted to vote shall be inserted in the alphabetical list by the inspectors, and a note made opposite thereto by writing the word "tax," if he shall be admitted to vote by reason of having paid tax; or the word "age," if he shall be admitted to vote by reason of such age which shall be called out to the clerks, who shall make the like notes on the list of voters kept by them.

In all cases where the name of the person claiming to vote is not found on the list furnished by the commissioners and assessor, or his right to vote, whether found thereon or not, is objected to by any qualified citizen, it shall be the duty of the inspectors to examine such person on oath as to his qualifications, and if he claims to have resided within the State for one year or more his oath shall be sufficient proof thereof, but shall make proof by at least one competent witness, who shall be a qualified elector, that he has resided in the district for more than ten days next immediately preceding such election, and shall also himself swear that his bona fide residence, in pursuance of his lawful calling, is in said district, and that he did not remove into said district for the purpose of voting therein.

Every person qualified as aforesaid, and who shall make due proof, if required, of the residence and payment of taxes as aforesaid, shall be admitted to vote in the township, ward or district in which he shall reside.

If any person shall prevent or attempt to prevent any officer of any election under this act from holding such election, or use or threaten any violence to any such officer, or shall interrupt or improperly interfere with him in the execution of his duty, or shall block up the windows or avenue to any window where the same may be holding, or shall riotously disturb the peace at such election, or shall use any intimidating threats, force or violence, with design to influence unduly or overawe any elector, or to prevent him from voting or to restrain the freedom of choice, such person, on conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and imprisoned for any time not less than three nor more than twelve months, and if it shall be shown to Court, when the trial of such offence shall be had, that the person so offending was not a resident of the city, ward, district or township where the offense was committed, and not entitled to vote therein, then on conviction he shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years.

If any person, not by law qualified, shall fraudulently vote at any election of this Commonwealth, or being otherwise qualified shall vote out of his proper district, or if any person knowing the want of such qualification, shall aid or procure such person to vote, the person offending shall on conviction be fined in any sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, and be imprisoned in any term not exceeding three months.

If any one shall vote at more than one election district, or otherwise fraudulently vote more than once on the same day, or shall fraudulently fold and deliver to the inspector two tickets together, with the intent illegally to vote, or who shall procure another to do so, he or they offending shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned for a term not less than three nor more than twelve months.

If any person not qualified to vote in this Commonwealth agreeably to law (except the sons of qualified citizens,) shall appear at any place of election for the purpose of influencing the citizens qualified to vote, he shall on conviction forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for every such offence and be imprisoned for a term not exceeding three months.

THE REGISTRY LAW.

I also give official notice to the electors of Columbia county that by an act, entitled "An Act further supplemental to the act relative to the elections of this Commonwealth," approved April 17th, A. D. 1869, it is provided as follows:

Sec. 3. After the assessments have been completed on the tenth day preceding the second Tuesday in October of each year, the assessor shall, on the Monday immediately following, make a return to the county commissioners of the names of all persons assessed by him since the return required to be made by him by the second section of this act, noting opposite each name the observations and explanations required to be noted as aforesaid; and the county commissioners shall thereupon cause the same to be added to the return required by the second section of this act, and a full and correct copy thereof to be made, containing the names of all persons so returned as resident taxables in said ward, borough, township or precinct, and furnish the same together with the necessary election blanks to the officers of the election in said ward, borough, township or precinct, on or before six o'clock in the morning of the second Tuesday of October, and no man shall be permitted to vote at the election on that day whose name is not on said list, unless he shall make proof of his right to vote, as hereinafter required.

Sec. 4. On the day of the election any person whose name is not on the said list, and claiming the right to vote at said election, shall produce at least one qualified voter of the district as a witness to the residence of the claimant in the district in which he claims to be a voter for the period of at least ten days next preceding said election, which witness shall take and subscribe a written, or partly written and partly printed affidavit to the fact stated by him, which affidavit shall define clearly where the residence is of the person so claiming to be a voter; and the person so claiming the right to vote shall also take and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit, stating to the best of his knowledge and belief, where and when he was born, that he is a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the United States; that he has resided in the Commonwealth one year, or if formerly a citizen therein, and has moved therefrom, that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election; that he has not moved into the district for the purpose of voting therein; that he has paid a State or county tax within two years, which was assessed at least ten days before said election; and, if a naturalized citizen, shall also state when, where and by what court he was naturalized, and shall also produce his certificate of naturalization for examination; the said affidavit shall also state when and where the tax claimed to be paid by the affiant was assessed, and when, where and to whom paid, and the tax receipt therefor shall be produced for examination, unless the affiant shall state on his affidavit that it has been lost destroyed, or that he never received any, but if the person so claiming the right to vote shall take and subscribe an affidavit, that he is a native born citizen of the United States, (or if born elsewhere, shall state the fact in his affidavit, and shall produce evidence that he has been naturalized, or that he is entitled to citizenship by reason of his father's naturalization;) and shall further state in his affidavit that he is at the time of taking the affidavit between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two years; that he has resided in the State one year and in the election district ten days next preceding such election, he shall be entitled to vote, although he shall not have paid taxes; and the said affidavits of all persons making such claims, and the affidavits of the witnesses to their residence shall be preserved by the election board, and at the close of the election they shall be enclosed with the list of voters, tally list and other papers required by law to be filed by the return judge with the prothonotary, and shall remain on file therewith in the prothonotary's office subject to examination, as other election papers are; if the election officers shall find that the applicant or applicants possess all the legal qualifications of voters, he or they shall be permitted to vote, and the name or names shall be added to the list of taxables by the election officers, the word "tax" being added where the claimant claims to vote on tax, and the word "age" where he claims to vote on age; the same words being added by the clerks in each case respectively on the lists of persons voting at such election.

Sec. 5. It shall be lawful for any qualified citizen of the district, notwithstanding the name of the proposed voter is contained on the list of resident taxables, to challenge the vote of such person; whereupon the same proof of the right of suffrage as is now required by law shall be publicly made and acted on by the election board, and the vote admitted or rejected, according to the evidence: every person claiming to be a naturalized citizen shall be required to produce his naturalization certificate at the election before voting, excepting where he has been for ten years consecutively, a voter in the district in which he offers his vote; and on the vote of such person being received, it shall be the duty of the election officers to write or stamp on such certificate the word "voted," with the month and year; and if any election officer or officers shall receive a second vote on the same day, by virtue of the same certificate excepting where sons are entitled to vote by virtue of the naturalization of their fathers, they and the person who shall offer such second vote, upon so offending shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court; but the fine shall not exceed five hundred dollars in each case, nor the imprisonment one year; the like punishment shall be inflicted on conviction, on the officers of election who shall neglect or refuse to make, or cause to be made, the indorsement required as aforesaid on said naturalization certificate.

Sec. 6. If any election officer shall refuse or neglect to require such proof of the right of suffrage as is prescribed by this law, or the laws to which this is a supplement, from any person offering to vote whose name is not on the list of assessed voters, or whose right to vote is challenged by any qualified voter present, and shall admit such person to vote without requiring such proof, every person so offending, shall, upon conviction, be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall be sentenced, for every such offence, to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to undergo an imprisonment not more than one year, or either or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 7. The respective assessors, inspectors and judges of the elections shall each have the power to administer oaths to any persons claiming the right to be assessed or the right of suffrage, or in regard to any other matter or thing required to be done or inquired into by any of said officers under this act; and any wilful false swearing by any person in relation to any matter or thing concerning which they shall be lawfully interrogated by any of said officers shall be punished as perjury.

Sec. 10. The assessors shall each receive the same compensation for the time necessarily spent in performing the duties hereby enjoined as is provided by law for the performance of their other duties to be paid by the county commissioners as in other cases; and it shall not be lawful for any assessor to assess a tax against any person whatever within ten days next preceding the election to be held on the second Tuesday in October in any year, or within ten days next before any election for electors of President and Vice-President of the United States; any violation of this provision shall be a misdemeanor and subject the officers so offending to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 11. On the petition of five or more citizens of the county, stating under oath that they verily believe that frauds will be practiced at the election about to be held in any district, it shall be the duty of the court of common pleas of said county, if in session, or if not a judge thereof in vacation, to appoint two judicious, sober and intelligent citizens of the county to act as overseers at said election; said overseers shall be selected from different political parties, where the inspectors belong to different parties, and where both of said inspectors belong to the same political party, both of the overseers shall be taken from the opposite political party; said overseers shall have the right to be present with the officers of the election, during the whole time the same is held, the votes counted and the returns made out and signed by the election officers; to keep a list of voters, if they see proper; to challenge any person offering to vote, and interrogate him and his witnesses under oath, in regard to his right of suffrage at said election, and to examine his papers produced; and the officers of said election are required to afford to said overseers so elected and appointed every convenience and facility for the discharge of their duties; and if said election officers shall refuse to permit said overseers to be present and perform their duties as aforesaid, or if they shall be driven away from the polls by violence and intimidation, all the votes polled at such election district may be rejected by any tribunal trying a contest under said election: Provided, That no person signing the petition shall be appointed an overseer.

Sec. 12. Any assessor, election officer or person appointed as an overseer, who shall neglect or refuse to perform any duty enjoined by this act, without reasonable or legal cause, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars, and if any assessor shall assess any person as a voter who is not qualified, or shall refuse to assess any one who is qualified, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and on conviction be punished by fine or imprisonment, and also be subject to an action for damages by the party aggrieved; and if any person shall fraudulently alter, or add to, deface or destroy any list of voters made out as directed by this act, or tear down or remove the same from the place where it has been fixed, with fraudulent or mischievous intent, or for any improper purpose, the person so offending shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 13. All elections for city, ward, borough, township and election officers shall hereafter be held on the second Tuesday of October, subject to all provisions of the laws regulating the election of such officers not inconsistent with this act; the persons elected to such offices at that time shall take their places at the expiration of the terms of the persons holding the same at the time of such election; but no election for the office of assessor or assistant assessor shall be held, under this act, until the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two.

In obedience to the requirements of Jno. W. Geary, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I hereby publish the Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, and the Act of Congress enforcing the same, and the Act of Assembly relative thereto.

The Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States is as follows:

"SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

"SECTION 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

An Act to enforce the right of citizens of the United States to vote in the several States of this Union and for other purposes:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress Assembled, That all citizens of the United States, who are, or shall be otherwise qualified by law to vote at any election by the people, in any state, Territory, district, county, city, parish, township, school district, municipality, or other territorial sub-division, shall be entitled and allowed to vote at all such elections, without distinction of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; any Constitution, law, custom, usage, or regulation of any State or Territory, or by, or under its authority, to the contrary notwithstanding.

"SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That if by or under the authority of the Constitution or laws of any State, or the laws of any Territory, any act is or shall be required to be done as a prerequisite or qualification for voting, and by such Constitution or law, persons or officers are or shall be charged with the performance of duties in furnishing to citizens an opportunity to perform such prerequisite, or to become qualified to vote, it shall be the duty of every such person and officer to give to all citizens of the United States, the same and equal opportunity to perform such prerequisite, and to become qualified to vote without distinction of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; and if any such person or officer shall refuse or knowingly omit to give full effect to this section, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred dollars to the person aggrieved thereby, to be recovered by an action on the case, with full costs and such allowance for counsel fees as the court shall deem just, and shall also, for every such offence be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall on conviction thereof, be fined not less than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not less than one month and not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the Court."

A further supplement to the act relating to elections in this Commonwealth:

"SECTION 10. That so much of every act of Assembly as provides that only white freemen shall be entitled to vote or be registered as voters, or as claiming to vote at any general or special election of this Commonwealth, be and the same is hereby repealed; and that hereafter all freemen, without distinction of color, shall be enrolled and registered according to the provisions of the first section of the act approved seventeenth April, 1869, entitled "An Act further supplemental to the act relating to the elections of this Commonwealth," and when otherwise qualified under existing laws, be entitled to vote at all general and special elections in this Commonwealth."

Given under my hand, at my office in Bloomsburg this 18th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and in the ninety-seventh year of the Independence of the United States.

THE crop of chestnuts this year is unprecedently large.

Thanksgiving Day this year comes on the 28th of November.

FOUR and three tenths inches of rain fell during Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last.

FROM and after the 1st of November it will be lawful to shoot rabbits until the January following.

GOV. GEARY has appointed Andrew F. Russel of Danville Associate Judge, vice Peter J. Hughes, deceased.

Squirrels never were fatter or more plenty than they are this Fall. Hunting them furnishes rare and profitable sport just now.

THE real estate of Peter Stricker late of Catawissa, deceased, was sold on the 19th of October to John and Franklin Stricker for $1,515.

CONKLING admits that the result of the October election by no means renders the election of Grant a certainty, and adds, "Our hardest work is yet before us."

THE electoral ticket in opposition to Grant was nominated by the Democratic convention at Reading. It is composed of Democrats. It ought, therefore, to be supported by every Democrat.

THE vigorous and manly address of the National Democratic Committee will be found in another column. We commend it to the attention of our readers.

"ALL that I am in the world," said Mr. Lincoln, "the Presidency and all else, I owe to that opinion of me which the people express when they call me Honest Old Abe. Now, what will they think of their honest Abe when he appoints Simon Cameron to be his familiar adviser?"

A good many office-holders complain that the business does not pay in these days of double and extra assessments. "Voluntary contributions" for election purposes come as easily as double teeth under the inspiration of a pair of pincers without chloroform. And the extraction is perfectly lovely, except to those concerned in the operation.

THE Democrats of Scranton, Pa. increased their majority largely in the recent election. In the election for Governor in 1860 Packer, Democrat, had 262 majority. At the election on the 8th inst. Buckalew had 1,600 majority. Scranton was one of the places that could not be bought up by the Cameron Ring.

COUNTERFEIT twenty-five and fifty cent stamps are said to be in extensive circulation. If any of our readers who owe for their papers have got any suspicious currency they will be told whether it is good on calling at this office. We are not quite certain whether it would not be as well to take counterfeit money as to have none at all.

WE are informed that gold has been found near Shickshinny in the richest kind of a vein in connection with silver and copper. We have not seen any of the precious metal nor have we seen any one who has, but the story is a good one. There will not be a large amount taken out—though there may be some people taken in.

THERE is an election in South Carolina to-day for Governor and other State officers. A Treasury Ring forced the nomination of a corrupt man who was a member of it, and the honest Republicans of the State nominated an independent ticket. The fight is between the regular Ring and the bolting Reformers. It is to be hoped that the latter will win.—Press.

Yes, Mr. Forney, it was "to be hoped" that the honest Republicans would win, but they didn't. The scoundrels in South Carolina were as powerful as those in Pennsylvania at the late election and carried the State. And yet you support the leaders of the party in which such political rascality is practiced. Your desire for reform is certainly not very strong.

NORTH MOUNTAIN.—We have just returned from a visit to this popular resort. Since our last visit there important and desirable changes have been made. Additional boats, city built, have been placed upon the Lake, a walk cut out along the shore to the outlet, and seats provided at that point. The lawn stretching from the Hotel to the water's edge has been graded, and the grove cleaned out. A fine paling fence encloses the grounds which are being rapidly beautified. The stones are being removed the ground broken up, and fruit and ornamental trees have been planted in abundance. As the soil is excellent abundant crops will undoubtedly be secured. The Hotel itself has been thoroughly repaired. A fine porch has been constructed in front, and a Billiard Table has been put up in an appropriate room. New beds, bedding, and other furniture have been supplied, so that the Hotel is completely equipped. The old misnomer "Long Pond" has been dropped and the more appropriate name of Highland Lake substituted. Col. Ricketts has also constructed a first class trout pond, and in due time will stock the lake with black bass. He has a force of men constantly at work, and will spare no effort to make the place the finest summer resort in the State. Deer are as abundant as ever, but owing to the absence of beech nuts and acorns this season, small game is scarce. With improved roads and a good landlord Highland Lake cannot fail to become popular.

THE Mechanics of Light Street recently held a meeting and adopted the ready pay system. This is a move in the right direction, and should be generally adopted. Credit is the bane of our country.

The Grant party are running the canvass on purely commercial principles. Votes are made a cash transaction. Without money and bribery the concern would not last a week.

GENERAL BANKS, who has been feeling the pulse of the people out West, says, on his return to New England, "No human power can defeat the Liberal cause."

WE have been requested to state that Samuel Rimby has refitted his Hotel at Jerseytown and is now prepared to entertain guests with every comfort and convenience.

RELIGIOUS.—The diamond has a powerful attraction for light, but it possesses likewise the noble quality, to reflect in return all it drinks and much more in its splendid radiation. Like the seed, which we entrust to good mother earth, it drinks the nourishing milk of the elements only to return it greatly purified and multiplied. Thus we drink the beams of love and affection only to reflect them like the sparkling diamond, with magnified lustre. And is not the diamond beautiful? Yet if we do so we are still more beautiful. H. Z.

CORN HUSKS.—The husks of corn are well worth the trouble of saving. When dried and torn into strips they make excellent mattresses, clean and sweet, and very soft and elastic. Plaited into a rope and wound round a central point, they make serviceable door mats, the manufacture of which will furnish pleasing and useful fireside employment for many a stormy day when outside work is impossible, or for the long evenings of winter. They are worth saving for these purposes alone.

THE BERWICK ROLLING MILL.—The works of the Berwick Rolling Mill Company of this town went into operation on Friday the 17th inst. There are at present in working condition five puddling furnaces and two heating furnaces, capable of making ten tons of finished iron from the pig per day. When the mill is entirely finished, there will be ten puddling furnaces and three heating furnaces, furnishing a capacity of twenty tons of bar iron when running on pig iron and thirty tons per day when working part scrap iron. Everything started off smoothly and without the least mishap. The mill is now furnishing bar iron for the car works of the Jackson & Woodin Manufacturing Company, and we understand there are now on file large orders from this company. The iron which we have seen is a fine sample of merchant iron, and we are told by experts that the market affords no better. The machinery which propels the mill works to entire satisfaction. There are two engines, one of fifty and another of two hundred and fifty horse power. The large engine drives the roll trains and the alligator and rotary squeezers. The small one runs the fan, shears and pump. Water in ample and even superabundant quantity is supplied by a steam force pump from a well seventy feet deep. The mill is well arranged in all its parts and its successful starting augurs well for the future success of the undertaking. The enterprise is well under way and in the hands of first class business men. M. W. Jackson is the President of the company, George B. Thompson, the Vice President and Treasurer, and B. F. Crispin, jr., the Secretary. In a word the citizens of our borough are proud of their new iron works, and adding this concern to the extensive establishment of the Jackson & Woodin Manufacturing Company, and the works of Freas Bros. & Thornton, and the new firm of Newton Jackson & Michael, Berwick expects to give our large towns a close race by the time the census takers make their next rounds.—Independent.

Address of the National Democratic Committee to the People of the United States.

The October elections are over. They enable us to form a tolerably accurate idea of the true political situation of the country.

In Georgia we have to recount a victory for the Liberal ticket so unexampled as to take her out of the list of doubtful States, and practically to pronounce in advance the decision of at least 125 votes in the Electoral College. To this number it is only necessary to add sixty votes to elect Greeley and Brown.

In Pennsylvania the distinguished Chairman of the Liberal Committee has eloquently characterized the methods by which the result of the election there was accomplished. We commend his statement to the thoughtful attention of the country.

In Ohio, despite most unprecedented gains for the Liberal-Democratic ticket, the Grant managers have carried the election by a reduced majority, having brought to the polls their entire reserve vote. Had our Democratic friends in certain localities of that great commonwealth shown the same earnestness and activity, and enabled us like our enemies to record our entire strength, they would now be exulting over a brilliant victory. In Indiana the Democratic and Liberal forces have achieved a most important success over Pennsylvania tactics most unscrupulously employed by the Administration and its allies, showing thus that a free people when aroused know their rights and dare maintain them. Indiana has fairly demonstrated that she can neither be "bought nor bullied." The moral of these results is that victory is still in plain view for our national ticket, and that energy and courage will assure it. That victory must be won. If we mean to preserve free institutions on this continent we must assure it.

The event in Pennsylvania, on Tuesday last, when considered in its causes, is the most appalling political catastrophe that has ever taken place in this country. Should the system through which this catastrophe was brought about be condoned by the people and foisted on the other States, it seals the doom of freedom in America. A sad contrast it is surely that the city in which our republic was born amid the anthems of a free people should now be the first to toll the knell of its liberties. It is for the free, unbought people of all the States to calmy review the fearful crime against suffrage in Pennsylvania, and to decide whether it shall be repeated within their own borders.

For the first time the system of free government and the sanctity of the ballot are really on trial in the United States. From this hour forward the preservation of the franchise in its integrity dwarfs all other issues.

Let our friends in each of the States catch inspiration from the heroic conduct of our fellow-citizens in Georgia and in Indiana; and from now till November let their struggle be manful and unceasing for liberty and an untainted ballot-box, for Reform and an honest Administration of the Government.

AUGUSTUS SCHELL,
Chairman National Democratic Com.

NEWS

Ex Governor Wm. F. Johnston died in Pittsburg on Friday last aged 61 years.

It is thought that Chief Justice Chase will be compelled to retire from the bench of the Supreme Court this winter on account of failing health. He is somewhat improved by his summer trip, but is very feeble. In the event of his death or resignation the President will probably appoint Hon. David K. Cartter, of Ohio, at present chief justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

The experts appointed to investigate frauds in St. Louis have brought to light facts proving that $101,000 have been stolen by a ring connected with the building of the new county jail.

A fearful hurricane swept through the province of Syracuse, in Sicily, on Sunday last, blowing down several houses, and it is reported that thirty-two persons were buried in the ruins.

Boss Tweed, of New York, is still missing, but it is said that he will be ready to appear when wanted in court to answer the several charges of thieving now standing against him.

The overflow of the River Po has caused excessive damages throughout the plains of Lombardy and Piedmont. Whole villages have been inundated, the inhabitants driven for safety to the highlands, and all their crops and stock swept away. The Mincio and Ticino, affluents of the Po, have also overflowed and created much disaster.

Previous to his departure from Berlin for Italy Mr. Bancroft, the American Minister, addressed a letter to the Emperor, informing His Majesty that he had been charged by President Grant to thank him for the great trouble he had taken in the settlement of the San Juan boundary question, and assuring him of the good will and friendship between the Germans and American nations.

FOR PRESIDENT,
HORACE GREELEY,
OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
B. GRATZ BROWN,
OF MISSOURI.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

OLD THINGS HAVE PASSED AWAY.—This is at least true of the old method of treating the long abused and much abused human body. It is no longer considered wise to put a patient to the torture in order to cure him of a disease in which pain is already undermining the energies of his system. True science ranges itself on the side of nature, and endeavors to assist her in her fight against disease. This is the province of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most approved tonic ever advertised in this country. It may be recommended as a fall medicine, par excellence; for it is in the fall that billiousness, dyspepsia and malarious fever are especially prevalent. The frame, exhausted by the heats of summer, is relaxed and feeble at its close, and requires, we may say demands, artificial assistance. Afford it that assistance in occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and the evils referred to may be escaped. Throughout the far West, and on the steaming alluvial of the Southern rivers, all the varieties of periodical fever are probably rife to-day. Had a course of Hostetter's Bitters been commenced by the sufferers a month ago, i.e., before the unhealthy season set in, seven-eights of them would in all probability be in their usual health at the present time. So much for not keeping in the house and using daily, the best safeguard against epidemic and epidemic fevers.

As flocks of impostors and imitators are trying to follow in the wake of the great American remedy, therefore be sure that the article you buy is genuine and verified by the proper trademarks. The true article can only be obtained in bottles. Beware of the spurious bitters sold by the gallon or in keg.

A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE.—Ladies whose faces are clouded by superficial discolorations, and who have resolved to try HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM as a remedy, have no idea of the welcome surprise they will receive from their mirrors after a few applications of that healthful purifier of the complexion. If at all excitable, they will scream with rapture on beholding the change. Whether the blemish it is desired to remove be sallowness, blotches, pimples, freckles, roughness, or an unnatural pallor, it is bound to disappear under the tonic operation of this wonderful liquid. To say that the blemish disappears, does not, however, convey any idea of the effect produced by this celebrated beautifier. The unsightly tinge, whether diffused over the whole countenance or in spots, or patches, is replaced by a uniform, pearly bloom, to which no description can do justice.

Important Testimony!

The following letters are among the many we are constantly receiving from persons who have been cured by

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,
Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic,
AND
Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Pennsgrove, Salem County, New Jersey.
FEBRUARY 27, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by the efficacy of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

Consumption has been hereditary with my family, most of its members having died of it at early ages. My mother and three brothers died at the age of 31, one brother at 27, and my sister at 13.

I was, when about 31 years, seized with liver complaint, which rapidly developed into Pulmonary Consumption. I was compelled to relinquish my employment (that of a blacksmith.)

I consulted skillful and eminent physicians, and tried many patent nostrums, but without success, so that my friends were sure that there was no hope of my recovery, for I was reduced from 149 pounds to 104, and was not able to do anything without assistance.

By what I now look upon as a Providential interposition, I was induced to try your remedies, and place myself under your treatment, and so rapid and thorough was my recovery, that it seemed as though some superhuman power was at work, and to-day I am as well as at any time during my life. I weigh 152 pounds, am 36 years old, and for some time have been regularly attending to my business, bidding fair to live to a good old age.

I am thankful to you beyond expression for having placed me in a position wherein I am a benefit instead of a burden to my family.

Your Mandrake Pills are the only medicine I ever use now. I think they are the best in the world.

I can refer you to hundreds of my neighbors who will verify all I have written, and any information any of my fellow citizens may desire will be freely and gladly given, upon receipt of stamp, by Yours, etc.,
JOHN C. HEWITT.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 19, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. cor. Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Dear Sir—Please forward, per first steamer, six bottles Sea Weed Tonic and twelve bottles Pulmonic Syrup.

Your medicines are o such value that I cannot be without them in my household, and in fact no family should be without them.

I have given them a fair test, and openly declare them to be even better than you claim.

Very respectfully yours, &c.
W. A. WHITEHURST.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK,

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in awarding to you this certificate of the wonderful cure your Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic produced. My throat and bronchial tubes were so highly inflamed that it was almost impossible for me to swallow my food.

I am, on a visit to my uncle, Mr. Charles Johnson, No. 912 Federal street, who says your medicines raised him from almost death after all other means had failed, and he having, therefore, full confidence in the virtue of your remedies, strongly recommended me to try them. I did so, and in one week from the time I commenced taking them my throat underwent a very great change for the better, so that I could eat my meals without any difficulty or pain. I can scarcely find words to express my gratitude for the early relief your invaluable medicines produced upon me, and I deem it but an act of gratitude to give you the acknowledgement of my appreciation. Yours respectfully,
RACHEL M. JACOBS.
No. 86 West Thirty-third street, New York.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

SEA WEED TONIC,

and MANDRAKE PILLS.

These are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Dr. Schenck has been in constant practice over thirty years continually examining lungs, and knows his medicines, if properly taken, will cure Consumption. His Mandrake Pills cleanse the liver and stomach; his Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, stimulates the coating of the stomach, and makes it digest. His Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter, and nature throws it off without any exertion.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, $1,50 per bottle, or $7 50 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Agricultural.

Stabling for Horses.

In building stables there has been a desire to have some convenient place to put the manure which the animals make, where it will be protected from the weather, so as to prevent the escape of much valuable fertilizing matter, which takes place when exposed to the sun and rain, the former taking it off in the form of gas, and the latter carrying it off with the water; and especially is it desirable where large quantities of stock are kept together. Some persons advocate manure cellars under the stables for this purpose, and I admit it is very convenient so far as that goes, but I think the practice is productive of anything but good to the horses or cattle for manure will and is throwing off quantities of noxious gases the inhaling of which is sure to more or less impair the health and well being of animals, particularly horses. Some attempt to argue the point by saying that it does no injury whatever, but if foul gases will impair the health of human beings, why should and would it not have the same effect upon the lower class of animals, which are as much flesh and blood as we are and as susceptible of injury from that source. It is far better to have a suitable and sufficiently commodious shed near at hand, to which the manure can be taken at once, whenever the stables are cleaned out. Of course it takes some little more time to do so, but the saving of the health of the occupants of the stables, and the ease with which it can be obtained when wanted for use more than makes up for the small loss of time. Those who have manure-cellars underneath their stables, and have horses which lack appetites, and, consequently, energy, should try keeping the manure at some little distance away, where the fumes of the decomposing and heating mass cannot be inhaled by the horses, and by removing the cause the effect is either entirely removed or else partially so, good feed and proper care doing the rest in restoring the animal or animals to original good health and spirits.

Most of the barns now built, especially those erected a few years back, are built high, with the hay-mow immediately over the manure cellar; in this mow the hay remains for an indefinite length of time, for several months; and the hay being dry, is capable of absorbing the bad odors which the manure underneath very readily supplies, the consequence being that it acquires an unpleasant taste, which deteriorates from its value as feed, the stock readily detecting its poor quality. Where a tight board floor is put in the mow, the results or effects are not so deleterious, for the gas. In some measures, is prevented from going directly to the hay; but, where the floor is open as it should not be for the dirt, seed, &c., works down upon the cattle, the change in the quality of the hay is marked, horses or cattle either being very good judges.

The reason barns are built high is, first, that it is somewhat cheaper than to build one story sheds or buildings, and secondly, it makes the feeding less laborious, for the feed is convenient at all times, both items of which are considered of major importance by the majority of stock owners; whereas, I think that the health of the animal as well as the quality offered should be deemed worthy of the first consideration.

Our ideas of barns and stables are these: We believe in large barns, which should be kept for the sole use of storing hay, fodder, &c., for the use of the stock, and so arranged inside that access can be had to any part of the building for the purpose of obtaining the food for the stock, without unnecessary climbing or extra trouble.

The stabling for the horses should be of only one story, but commodious and with plenty of ventilation, and should open on the entry which runs along in front of the feed troughs and mangers, into the barn, so as to make it convenient and easy to feed the stock in all kinds of weather. With such a place as this, you need not fear for the health of the horses, if no manure cellar be underneath, or be afraid that the hay will, in any way, be impaired, at least not from this source. Sheds or buildings like these can be made to protect the barnyard, during winter from the cold, sweeping winds, thus materially assisting to keep the cattle comfortable and warm which is quite an item in the way of saving in feed.

I do not at all approve of building barns against a side hill, and then keeping the cows, horses, &c., in the basement, for it cannot help but be damp, and being so, injury to the stock will naturally ensue. Breeders of fine, blooded stock never, for a moment, think of keeping their animals in such a cell as this, for it would take a horse with a remarkably strong constitution to come out sound, after having such a place apportioned as his quarters. Dry, airy and light stables are the only places suitable for the profitable keeping and rearing of stock. By all means do not have the stable dark, for many good horses have had their eyesight impaired by keeping in a dark stable and suddenly bringing them out into the full blaze of a morning's sun. The effect can be better appreciated if you sit for some time in a dark room and then have a powerful light brought into the room suddenly, for it will prove to be almost unbearable until the eye has been accustomed to it, and, if persisted in, an impaired vision will, invariably, be the result from such a course.—American Stock Journal.

Young Folks.

The Three Sisters

There was once upon a time an indolent young girl who disliked to spin.—Her mother at last became very angry with her because of her laziness, and losing all patience, gave her such a good boxing as caused her to cry aloud. Just at this moment the queen was passing, and hearing the girl's screams, stopped her carriage and went into the house to see what was the cause of the disturbance. The queen asked the mother why she punished the girl so severely as to make her cries reach the street.—The woman being ashamed to say what a lazy child she had, replied, "I wish to take away her distaff; she would spin forever, and in my poverty I am unable to furnish her with flax."

The queen replied: "The distaff is a great favorite of mine; the noise of the spinning-wheel charms me. Let your daughter go to my palace; I have a quantity of flax, she may there spin at her pleasure." The mother gladly consented, and the queen carried the young girl off in her carriage. When they arrived at the place the girl was shown into three chambers, which were filled from the floor to the ceiling with the most beautiful flax. "Spin me all this flax," said the queen, "and when it is finished I shall give you in marriage to my eldest son. Do not worry yourself about your poverty; your zeal for work will be dowry sufficient."

The girl said nothing, but was filled with consternation, for if she worked for three hundred years without resting, from morning until night, she would not be able to reach the bottom of this enormous pile of flax. When alone she began to weep, and continued to do so for three days and three nights without touching her work. The third day the queen coming to see her was astonished to find that no work had been done. The young girl excused herself on account of grief at leaving her mother, and the queen was obliged to be contented with this answer; but, on leaving, said to her: "See to it that you begin to-morrow to work."

When the young girl was once more alone, she did not know what to do.—In her trouble she walked to the window and saw coming towards her three women. The first one had an immense flat foot; the second, such a tremendously large lower lip that it hung over and quite covered her chin; and the third, a thumb large and flat. They stopped before the window, and looking into the window asked the young girl what she would like to have. She told them her trouble, and they offered to aid her on "condition that she would invite them to the nuptials, call them her cousins without being ashamed of them, and give them seats at the table; promise this and we will go to work on the flax and it will soon be spun."—"With all my heart," replied she; come in and begin quick." She brought in the three singular looking women, and cleared a place for them in the first room to work in. The first woman spun the flax and turned the wheel, the second wet the flax, and the third twisted it, holding it on the table with her thumb. At each stroke of the thumb she dropped on, the floor a skein of the finest thread.

Every time the queen came in the girl hid the women, and showed the work that was done, the queen was always filled with admiration. When the first chamber was finished they passed to the second, and then the third, which was well finished also. The three sisters then prepared to leave, saying to her. "Do not forget your promise, you shall never be sorry for it."

When the young girl had shown to the queen the empty chambers and the spun thread, she fixed a day for the wedding. The prince was delighted to have a wife so competent and industrious, and he was filled with love toward her. "I have three cousins," said she, "who have been very good to me, and whom I would not neglect in my good fortune; allow me to invite them to my wedding and to seat them at our table." The queen and prince made no objections. The day of the feast the three woman arrived in magnificent equipages. The bride said to them; "Dear cousins, I am glad to welcome you." The prince whispered her; "You have very ugly relations!" Then addressing himself to the one with the large foot he asked, "How came your foot so large?" "It was made so by turning the spinning wheel," replied she. To the second he said, "where did you get such a hanging lip?" "By wetting the flax," she answered. To the third he said, "How came your thumb so large?" "Twisting flax," she replied. The prince, frightened at this prospect declared that his bride should never again touch spindle or staff. Thus was the young girl relieved from the occupation which she most disliked.

The Spider's Bridge.—One chilly day I was left at home alone, and after I was tired of reading Robinson Crusoe, I caught a spider and brought him into the house to play with. Funny kind of playmate, wasn't it? Well, I took a wash-basin and fastened up a stick in it like a liberty pole or a vessel's mast, and then poured in water enough to turn the mast into an island for my spider, whom I named Crusoe, and put on the mast. As soon as he was fairly cast away he anxiously commenced running round to find the road to the mainland. He'd scamper down the mast to the water, strike out a foot, get it wet, shake it, run round the stick, and try the other side, and then run back up the top again.

Pretty soon it became a serious matter with Robinson, and he sat down to think it over. As in a moment he acted as if he wanted to shout for a boat, and was afraid he was going to be hungry, I put a little molasses on the stick. A fly came, but Crusoe was not hungry for flies just then. He was homesick for his web in the corner of the wood-shed. He went slowly down the pole to the water, and touched it all round, shaking his feet like pussy when she wets her stockings in the grass, and suddenly a thought seemed to strike him. Up he went like a rocket to the top and commenced playing circus. He held one foot in the air, then another, and turned around two or three times. He got excited, and stood on his head, before I found out what he knew, and that was this: that the draught of air made by the fire would carry a line ashore on which he could escape from his desert island. He pushed out a web that went floating in the air, until it caught on the table. Then he hauled on the rope until it was tight, struck it several times to see if it was strong enough to hold, and walked ashore. I thought he had earned his liberty, so I put him back in his wood-shed again.—Hearth and Home.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S
ALT. EXT.
Golden Medical Discovery
CURES DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above pointed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial diseases, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful purifying and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. For the cure of Habitual Constipation of the bowels it is a never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise.

The proprietor offers $1,000 reward for a medicine that will equal it for the cure of all the diseases for which it is recommended.

Sold by druggists at $1 per bottle. Prepared by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Sole Proprietor, at his Chemical Laboratory, 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. Send your address for a pamphlet.

DR. WALKER'S
EUREKA
VINEGAR BITTERS

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

The properties of Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters are Aperient, Diaphoretic and Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim Vinegar Bitters the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

THE QUEEN

THE AMERICAN

BUTTON-HOLE OVERSEAMING

AND COMPLETE SEWING MACHINE.

The first and only BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE combined that has made its advent in this or any other country.

The following reasons are given why this is the best.

Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do, sewing from the finest to the coarsest material, hemming, felling, cording, braiding, binding gathering and sewing on, at the same time ruffling, quilting, etc., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making as fine a pearl as by the hand.

3. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment.

4. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet hole.

5. Because it can do over-hand seaming, by which sheets, pillow cases and the like are sewed over and over.

6. Because the best mechanics pronounce it the best finished and made on the best principle of any machine manufactured.—It has no springs to break; nothing to get out of order.

7. Because it is two machines in one. A BUTTON-HOLE WORKING and SEWING MACHINE combined.

No other Machine can accomplish the kind of sewing stated in Nos. 2, 3, 4, and 5.

Parties using a family sewing machine want a WHOLE MACHINE, one with all the improvements.

It is to last a LIFETIME, and therefore one is wanted that will do the most work, and do it the best: and this machine can do several kinds of sewing not done on ANY OTHER MACHINE, besides doing every kind that all others can do

The American or Plain Sewing Machine.

(Without the button-hole parts), does all that is done on the Combination except button-hole and over-seaming.
